about our POS solution

We've cultivated an EPOS solution that we believe is 'best in show'. Providing the hardware is Toshiba, renowned for their multiple connectivity choices, open architecture, extensive range of peripherals and technology that adapts with the future.

On the software side is Infinity from Triquesta UK. Built on Microsoft SQL Server technology, Infinity provides a genuine relational database that integrates with all major ERP brands and offers real-time stock and sales information empowering you to make informed business decisions and help increase profitability.

And then there's us. We're one of the largest independent EPOS providers in the UK. Our independence means we offer our customers the solution that is right for them, which is why we look after more than 8, 000 sites of all sizes across the UK.
