Why run 10 different reports when you only need a single figure from each one?

Qube gives the ability to not only create and amend reports, but also to tailor them to suit specific individuals within the business.

With live access to the information that your business needs wherever you are, our ground-breaking solution provides a clear real-time understanding of your business performance along with the added tools to make a real difference.

Qube is a fully integrated solution designed to work with the data available within your existing Quantum EPOS System. Qube acts as a portal to provide a single centralised location where all this valuable information is available via the web wherever you are.

The core strength of Qube is to align this standard data with bespoke information specifically designed around what your business needs.

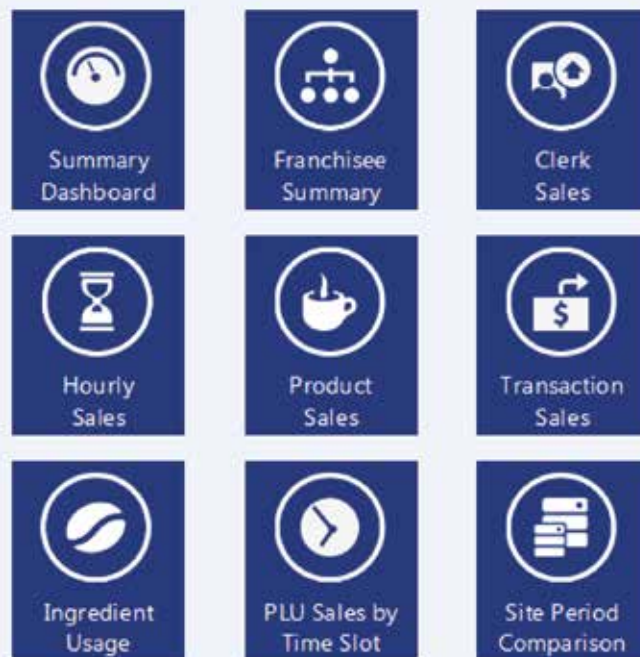

Profiles can be created to produce specialised dashboards for different people. As a Financial Director you may want to be alerted when the cash or trading figures are below a certain turnover target, whereas an Operations Director may want to compare week by week performance of outlets. All of this is possible with Qube.

Flexible and Cost Effective

Unlike some of our competitors' products, Qube is also available to purchase, making it the ideal solution for larger organisations that wish to host the system internally through their own infrastructure, or the public sector where policy often prevents external software hosting.

Qube delivers exceptional quality operational support by providing clear, accurate and real-time understanding of your business data, right down to individual transactions. Live sales and productivity data can be accessed from any location in the world with internet access.

Our goal is to provide the market-leading web-based retail and hospitality management solution to maximise operational efficiency and profitability.

We do this by listening and learning, working with your business to provide the best possible bespoke information to enhance performance and operational effectiveness.

Whether you are a large business or a budding entrepreneur, Qube is a proven solution, providing analytical information that drives cost reduction and improved profitability for businesses in the hospitality and retail industries.
